

Is There Life On Other Worlds?

You are here.... Why? —————→

Are there other life forms on other planets?

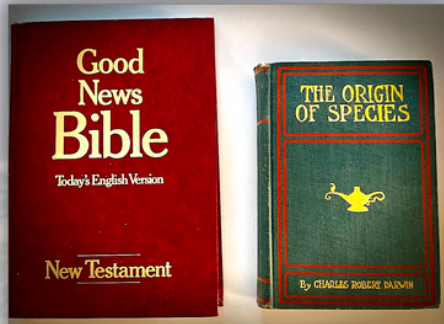

Yes there is, but not what you are probably imagining. Life on other planets is usually characterized by little gray men traveling to Earth in disc shaped saucers only to tantalize us of their existence and yet never landing to dialoge with us.

As we explore if there is life on other planets we have two world-views to consider.

EVOLUTION - All lifeforms have evolved naturallistically.

CREATIONISM - All beings were created by Design.

Math says it's Probable

Let's back up for just a moment to see the possibilities scientifically and the mathematical probability of life on other planets.

Our Milky Way is a galaxy. It is 100,000 light years across and contains 400 billion stars. The universe is estimated to contain 125 billion galaxies. So if you do the math, there are 50 trillion stars with the possibility of planets revolving around them.

The amount of chances for life on other planets is staggering and scientists are very optimistic that there is life on other planets. Having estimated there are six billion "earth-like" planets in our galaxy alone.

What is a billion?

If 1 million - 1 inch

And 1 billion divided by 1 million - 1000

You would need a stack of paper 1000 inches (or 83 feet, 4 inches) tall to show a billion -- that's as tall as an 8 story building!

If that ration held true throughout the universe there would be 750 billion earth-like planets.

What does an Extraterrestrial look like?

From an Evolution world-view:

Alien life forms are depicted by astro-artists as fantastic looking, weird and exotic compared to the average persons concept of a 3-4ft. tall being with almond eyes and gray skin.

Actual evidence is slim to properly answer this question with confidence. Math, astronomy and these elusive alien crafts as points of light darting across the sky is all we have. Yet, 47% of Americans believe there must be life out there. Let's approach it from another world-view.

From a Creation world-view:

Many have asked us on TikTok Live if there is Bible proof of life on other planets? Does the Bible say anything on the subject? Yes it does. Somewhat directly and some by inference.

The Bible indicates there are two types of created beings in the universe we know of:

1. Angels - They have wings but can take human form. The angels were created before humans and are based in heaven.
2. Humans - They were created in the image and likeness of God and the Earth was created to house humans.

A fascinating piece of information from Revelation says that:

Eons ago there was a rift in heaven among the angels. A third followed Lucifer to rebel and a war broke out in heaven. Lucifer and one third of his followers were expelled. Shortly after the end of this war the Earth was created and humans (a distinct order of being with the ability to procreate) were made. The first humans were given the mandate to be fruitful and multiply and then given one test at the tree of Good and Evil in the garden of Eden. If passed, we would have become immortal and as time went on we would have eventually refilled the void that the angels left when they rebelled.

So the question is - was there a time before the rebellion in heaven where God created other worlds, but people, like us who passed the "morality" test and never fell into sin like we did. Let's take a look at a few Bible passages that may help fill in the answer.

Bible Proof of Life on Other Planets

Let's take a look at the book of Job. It's found in the Old Testament written in 1800 B.C. and is the oldest book in the Bible. Job was written 350-450 years before Moses wrote Genesis in 1,450 B.C. there is a very curious passage about a council meeting that gives insight to possible other planets and their representatives.

Job 1:6 Now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan also came among them.

1:7 And the Lord said to Satan, "From where do you come?"

So Satan answered the Lord and said, "From going to and fro on the earth, and from walking back and forth on it."

Another council meeting takes place and again...

Job 2:1 Again there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan came also among them to present himself before the Lord.

Let's stop for a moment and talk about what we just read.

1. There were two council meetings with representatives present.
2. It says these representatives are "sons of God."

There are two ways that the phrase "sons of God" is used in the Bible.

- Angel
- Unfallen or a Righteous human

One example is a genealogy of humankind as it travels backwards and ends with Adam. Notice the change in the description of Adam as opposed to everyone else.

Luke 3:38 "...the son of Enosh, the son of Seth, the son of Adam, the son of God."

An unfallen, perfect Adam was originally created as a "son of God" - he was in the image of the creator both physically and morally and in Genesis 1:26 was given dominion over this planet. He then lost that dominion to Satan who is now ruler of this world.

Let's go back to Job 1 and 2. Sons of God were presenting themselves before God. Were they, like Adam, representatives of worlds? Although we cannot know for sure, it would seem to be the case and that Satan unfortunately was representing our Earth. Adam would have been Earth's representative, but when he sinned in the garden, the new owner of Earth is, at least temporarily, Satan (deceiver). Satan and all the other representatives therefore left their planets and traveled to some neutral location to report in as the ambassadors of their respective planets. Although it would not be wise to stretch that passage any further, it would seem there is reasonable evidence that the Bible is saying "yes" - there are other planets and beings like us.

Here are some other scriptures that when taken in this context seem to support the idea of other planets.

Hebrews 1:2 "Has in these last days spoken to us by His Son, who He has appointed heir of all things, through whom also He made the worlds..." (Worlds - plural)

Hebrews 11:3 "By faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God..."

1 Corinthians 4:9 "For I think that God has displayed us, the apostles, last, as men condemned to death; for we have been made a spectacle (or theater) to the world, both to angels and to men."

In further research on this idea I found no other articles, historians, passages, books or authors who have suggested that there are any created worlds where their inhabitants are unfallen humans created by God. Except one. A little old lady deemed by some in the 1800's as an American Prophet named Ellen G. White. Famous radio talk show host Paul Harvey would refer to her on occasion and suggested to his audience that they should "get to know her" because of her great insight. One of the most prolific women writers ever, here is what insight she had on the subject and I quote:

The Controversy Not to be Taken to Other Worlds

"The controversy (of good and evil) was not to be taken into the other worlds of the universe; but it was to be carried on in the very old world, on the very same field that Satan claimed as his."

- RH March 9, 1886

Unfallen Beings See the Controversy In This World

"Every eye in the unfallen universe is bent upon those who profess to be Christ's followers. Here in this atom of a world, an earnest warfare is going on." - RH Sept. 29, 1891

Conclusion: I believe it makes sense mathematically, astronomically, biblically and even anecdotally that there are other worlds inhabited by people - beings that look like us and not the little gray aliens. 47% of people believe in life on one of those 750 billion planets. Should they exist, it is fascinating to consider that they are like us, but without crime or evil, with no devil to tempt them and have already lived for eons. A happy and kind people who are aware of us and what this Earth is going through, are very eager to meet us someday. And we will.
